THE originator of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin was Dr. W. B. Caldwell, a practicing physician of Monticello, Ill. He was born in the U. S. at Shelbyville, Mo., March 27, 1839, and when a young man moved to Illinois. He studied at Rush Medical College, Chicago and graduated in 1875, locating in Monticello to live and to practice his profession. He was very successful in relieving constipation and kindred ills among his patients with a prescription of Egyptian senna and pepsin combined with wholesome aromatics, and in 1892 placed it in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. Continuing his practice in Monticello for 47 years, he achieved the honor of being the oldest active physician in the district. His remedy became the largest selling family laxative in the world, and is so today.

I hereby certify that the formula which has since 1892 been in use in the manufacture of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is the same formula originated and used so successfully in my practice.

W. B. Caldwell M.D.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, as sold today, is carefully prepared under the same formula originated by Dr. W. B. Caldwell and used so successfully in his practice.

INTRODUCTION

EW know as much about the country they live in as they ought to know, and with the object of refreshing the memory and recalling the great deeds and struggles of the pioneers over a period of more than 400 years, we present to our friends this little sketch of the Dominion of Canada. The facts and figures with regard to ourselves are truly staggering. We are not only large in area but we are rich; very rich actually and enormously rich potentially. We are Britain's largest overseas possession, 30 times larger than she is herself. We are larger than the United States including Alaska. We have a boundary line of 3,000 miles to "defend" and yet not a soldier or a patrol boat assigned to it. The confederation started in 1868 with four provinces, and now there are nine with a population of 8,746,872, and we are growing rapidly. Good citizens from all over the world have come to us for contentment and riches, including 500,000 from the United States, and all helped those already here to become richer. We have the world's greatest natural resources, in agriculture, minerals, fisheries, water power. Steamships and railroads, the latter running in one continuous stretch for 3,883 miles, help our progress and prosperity. Our national wealth is 20 billions, or over $2,000 per capita. Our national debt is $2,366,861,252, which looks large, but is less than our national income for one year! The manufacturers of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin are grateful to have shared in this prosperity and well-being and to have been able to contribute to the health of their fellow men.

A Reliable Laxative A Household Necessity

IF you are at an age where you must look after yourself, or more probably, have in addition others to look after, you know that any minute you may have need of a good remedy for constipation. Knowing this, it is only a question which one to select for the family remedy, which one to have constantly in the house for such emergencies.

You may choose, of course, from among many remedies. Some may like pills, but not everybody can swallow pills comfortably, and as they are usually purgative in action they have a drastic effect on the young, and often the old find them too harsh.

Choice of Many Remedies

Salt waters are not especially pleasant and have a tendency to bloat the stomach. A big dose must be taken. Powders are like salt waters but in dry form. To be effective, water must be added liberally. None of these would form an especially ideal remedy for all the family.

Some mothers think they please the children by giving them cathartics disguised in candy, or sugar-coated. It is, however, usually made up of a coal-tar drug known as phenolphthalein, and is often injurious to children in that it may cause skin eruptions. Also anxious mothers often give calomel, which is mercury. It is hard on the stomach, harsh on the bowels, and may loosen the teeth.

When a laxative is needed use Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

"I recommend Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin highly, because it has done so much for me."—Mrs. M. Aulenback, Bridgewater, N.S.

NEWFOUNDLAND

THE parent of what is now the Dominion of Canada was the little island of Newfoundland, the first spot on the North American mainland touched by a white man. John Cabot, born in Venice, reached it in 1497 in behalf of his English sovereign, only five years after Columbus landed on a West Indies island on a mission from Spain. The prosperity of Newfoundland now depends upon her fisheries and her game, the former being the second largest in the Western Hemisphere. The population, unlike in the Prairie Provinces, has grown gradually though steadily, and is today well over 250,000. St. John's, the capital city, has 35,000. There are 50,000 school children in Newfoundland, and the government appropriates $350,000 a year for their education. Half of the business of the country is with the United States. Newfoundlanders bought $33,000,000 worth of goods last year from foreign countries, 35 per cent. of which came from Canada. It sold $37,000,000 worth to other countries, of which Canada bought 10 per cent. It costs the people of Newfoundland nearly $7,000,000 a year to pay the expenses of their government, but the revenues are over 9 millions so it is a prosperous little country. The funded public debt is only $42,000,000, or about $170 a person. Newfoundland did not enter the Confederation of provinces and is a government distinct from that of the Dominion of Canada.

"Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is the best laxative we have ever used in our family circle."—James Stevenson, 160 Logan Ave., Toronto.

The Old-Fashioned Way Effective

The original way of taking medicine was from a bottle, in the form of syrupy solution, and it is still the best way. Less is required for a dose, and that is an advantage. It is purposely made syrupy so it can be readily taken by everybody. In that form, too, it is more agreeable to the taste. The youngest baby does not object to a right mixture of this kind.

Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin answers this old-fashioned and ever-dependable description. It is a laxative, not a harsh cathartic or purgative, and all the family, from the infant to the grandparent, can use it with safety and satisfaction. It comes in a bottle, in a pleasant syrupy form. A tiny dose for a baby and a spoonful for grown people is all that is required to bring results. It never gripes or bloats, and of all the hundreds of thousands of babies who have taken it in the past quarter of a century, there has not been a single complaint.

A Liquid is Best

As all druggists know, Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. There is no secret or mystery about it. The formula is plainly printed on each package, and your druggist will tell you that the ingredients used in the manufacture of this excellent remedy make the best combination of remedial agents known to medical science for the purposes indicated.

Fine Remedy for Babies

Its very simplicity makes Syrup Pepsin the ideal family remedy. When you know a thing is good and safe for your baby, you know it is good and safe for you and the older members of the family. What is the use of taking a strong medicine when a mild one will answer the purpose? Why have two or three constipation remedies in the house when one will do? Every member of the family, no matter what the age, can get results with Laxative Syrup Pepsin, the only change being that the dose is varied. (The simple directions covering the dosage are on the bottle).

MARITIME PROVINCES

AFTER John Cabot discovered what he appropriately called Newfoundland, and before returning to England to report to his King, he cruised along the coast in and out of the nearby islands. These places, later visited by his son Sebastian for further title and possession, are the Maritime Provinces of today, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island. They were named, respectively, for the king that sent out the expedition of discovery and for members of the royal family. The French came soon after the British, and the latter did not take firm root until 1750. Today 80 per cent. of the population is of British descent. Nova Scotia, the most prosperous, is, through its capital city, Halifax, "the gateway to Canada." It is the "Acadia" of old, the "Land of Evangeline," of poetry and romance. Commercially it is famed for its coal, its orchards, forests and fisheries. The annual wealth is $165,404,700, and the population 524,579, of which 57,000 live in Halifax. New Brunswick is the largest of these provinces in area, and forestry is its chief industry, with fisheries and game close seconds. The population is 388,092, and the capital, St. John, the oldest incorporated city in Canada, has 46,000. Prince Edward Island is the smallest, with a population of 88,536, of which 12,000 are in the capital, Charlottetown. Though only 2,184 square miles in area, so productive is the soil that its population is self-supporting. In Charlottetown in 1864 was held the first Canadian Union Conference. It is thus the "Cradle of Confederation."

Safe for All the Family

We know of no other family remedy for constipation and indigestion that has achieved the popularity of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin. It is in the third generation of use and that is because of its great and honest merit.

Many Homes Rely on It

There are young mothers today who know Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin from their childhood, who are now giving it to their own babies. In thousands of homes it is taken by all the members of the family when a laxative is required. No other constipation remedy, in fact, is in these homes. It is the whole family's sole reliance in the minor ills.

You who read this should have a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin always in the house. You will never find a better general family remedy. How do you know when you or another will be constipated? You could take Laxative Syrup Pepsin now and be relieved in a few hours.

Relieves Many Digestive Ills

It is not a cure-all. It is, however, just the remedy you should have in the house for constipation, whether occasional or chronic; for indigestion or dyspepsia; for headaches, which

PROVINCE OF QUEBEC

SPAIN and England were busy sending out expeditions of discovery to the New World, and France, an equally great power, followed suit. In 1534, Jacques Cartier, an intrepid Frenchman, set out with 122 men and encircled what was to him the unknown country of Newfoundland. He entered the St. Lawrence at the Strait of Belle Isle, naming places as he went along until he reached the Indian village of Hochelaga, now Montreal. That name, however, is a corruption of Mont Royale, so named by the explorer Samuel de Champlain, who visited it in 1611 after he had founded the city of Quebec, in 1608. The province of Quebec is the largest in area in the Dominion and second in population, with 2,349,067. Of this number Montreal had 712,909, the largest city in Canada, and Quebec has 155,000. Montreal is the second largest port in North America, and the largest inland port in the world. The bridge spanning the St. Lawrence near the city of Quebec is the largest of its type in the world, 3,239 feet long. The province is five times larger than the United Kingdom. Its birth rate is the highest in Canada. It produces half of all the pulpwood of Canada. Its manufactured products alone total one billion dollars, and its field crops a quarter of a billion. At Laprairie is the world's greatest wireless station. The province of Quebec will live forever in the minds of Canadians not only as the cradle of North American civilization but as the spot whereon was fought the great deciding battle of supremacy between England and France for final and irrevocable possession, the battle of "The Plains of Abraham", which Gen. Wolfe won for the British, Sept. 13, 1759.

nine times out of ten are due to constipation or indigestion; for colds, which in the early stages are quickly relieved by a laxative; for the minor skin eruptions, which are usually due to constipation; for belching, flatulency, wind on the stomach, sleeplessness, drowsy feeling after eating, mental distress, loss of appetite, general feeling of languor and lassitude, and for that peculiar condition where a person is not actually sick yet does not feel well.

Small Dose Gives Results

Give a dose of Laxative Syrup Pepsin to any member of the family, no matter what the age, who complains of these ills. The results will be prompt and will encourage you to have steadfast faith in the genuine merit of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

No Drugs or Narcotics

There are still others who can use this fine laxative to good advantage. There are thousands, of course, who can testify to its virtues for babies and children. (It is pleasant, safe, and free from all narcotics and dangerous drugs. It is ideal for the young because of the very simplicity of its formula). But women and old people, the sick and the weak, will find it equally suitable for them because of its prompt effectiveness coupled with mild action. It will enable these to avoid drastic cathartics and purgatives, which are often in themselves weakening.

PROVINCE OF ONTARIO

FOLLOWING the explorers came the traders, for both England and France saw huge profits in buying furs from the Indians. The traders pushed West, down the St. Lawrence into the Great Lakes, and so the province of Ontario came to be settled. Ontario is the richest and most populous province of Canada, with a population of 2,929,054, of which Toronto has 522,666. One-third of all Canada lives in Ontario. The value of its annual products is over a billion dollars. It builds 40 per cent. of all the houses erected in Canada, produces most of the gold, has 50 per cent. of the telephones and automobiles, and raises 75 per cent. of the fruit.

SIR J. G. SIMCOE
First Premier of Ontario

Toronto, an Indian word for "place of meeting," was founded as a French trading post in 1749. The British later bought it from the Indians for $85. The assessed valuation today is $732,000,000. The city is famous for the world's largest annual fair, with an attendance of over one million. It is Canada's greatest live-stock market. Its population has doubled every 15 years since incorporation in 1834. The province, however, has other famous cities, such as Ottawa, the capital of the Dominion, with a population of 110,000; St. Catharines, center of the finest fruit land in Ontario, with a population of 21,000; Kingston, the Fort Frontenac of 1673, the leading educational center, with a population of 24,000; London, with bank clearings of $192,000,000, and a population of 65,000; Kitchener, important industrially, with a population of 21,000, and Hamilton, famed for its natural beauty, with a population of 117,000.

For the little ills of the stomach, liver and bowels—those little ills which become so important if neglected and which form the basis of sickness—for these ills keep Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin at hand and yours will be a healthy family.

Constipation

Any child or grown person who does not have a movement of the bowels at least once in every 24 hours is constipated. Young children should have two evacuations daily. The evacuation should be free and full, otherwise it is very little better than if it had not occurred. It is safe to say that everyone at some time or other has constipation. Its very commonness makes it dangerous—people neglect it. A little Laxative Syrup Pepsin taken at bedtime will relieve the trouble by morning.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion

The causes of dyspepsia and indigestion are along the same general lines as those of constipation. The sufferer gets no nourishment from the food eaten, as it remains

PROVINCE OF MANITOBA

THERE was much rivalry between the traders sent out by England and France, and to increase trade with the Indians they pushed farther West. Among them was a French trader named La Verendrye, who in 1738 located in the vicinity of what is now the great city of Winnipeg, the first white man to set foot in Manitoba. In 1670, however, King Charles II had given some friends a charter, or deed, to "all that territory draining into the rivers flowing into the Hudson's Bay", which was an equivalent to making them a present of most of Canada. His friends incorporated as the Hudson's Bay Co. They were busy making money in other parts of Canada and did not reach Manitoba until 1806, when they built Fort Garry on the site of Winnipeg. It so remained until 1869 when the company transferred the land to the Dominion of Canada following the Confederation of Provinces, and a year later Winnipeg and Manitoba officially came into being. They have had the most sensational rise in wealth and population of any localities in the Dominion. Winnipeg was settled further in 1812 by Lord Selkirk and 125 Scotsmen. In 1870 Winnipeg started corporate life with only 215 inhabitants. Today its population is 282,000, and that of Manitoba 613,008. It is the second largest grain market in the world. It gives the cheapest power, electric light and telephone service in North America. It owns its own power works, water works, street lighting, stone quarries and asphalt plants. Its bank clearings are over 3 billions. Manitoba has over 55,000 prosperous farms. All this was accomplished in a little over 50 years, with only 14 per cent. of the land under cultivation.

undigested in the stomach and bowels. Poisons are generated which often get into the blood, lowering the vitality, interfering with the workings of the heart and kidneys, and depriving the body of the strength which the food should have given. It results also in constipation, just as constipation produces, in many cases, dyspepsia, followed frequently by pimples and other skin eruptions. A very simple and effective way to get rid of it is by using Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin as directed on the bottle.

Heartburn

One of the uncomfortable conditions often associated with dyspepsia is heartburn. It is due to an unusual acidity of the stomach. Water rises in the throat, pain is felt just below the breastbone and the tongue is coated. This symptom of chronic dyspepsia is readily relieved with Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

Diarrhoea

The opposite of constipation is diarrhoea. The bowels are then too loose. This is very weakening and it is important that the stools should stop. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin will clean the stomach and bowels of the irritating poisons and by so doing create a condition of health, enabling the stomach and bowels to again perform their functions naturally.

Bad Breath

Bad breath may be caused by decayed teeth but is usually the result of a disordered stomach. Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin will relieve this condition.

PRAIRIE PROVINCES

THE Prairie Provinces, as Saskatchewan and Alberta are called, are in many ways the most interesting and romantic of the Dominion. Their official life started as recently as 1905, so those living today have been able to see their development. For years Regina, the capital of Saskatchewan, with a population now of 45,000, was a desolate outpost and the headquarters of the historic Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Calgary, the capital of Alberta, has 72,000 population and is the largest city between Winnipeg and Vancouver. Combined the two provinces, formerly the North-West Territories, have an area as large as Germany and France, as the group of middle states in the United States, with a population of 1,343,385. Saskatchewan is Canada's greatest wheat-growing province, growing 56 per cent. of all the wheat in Canada. Both provinces own their public utilities, and the necessities of life are cheap. Alberta has 87 per cent. of the coal in Canada, the largest herd of buffalo in the world, and the largest natural parks in the world, containing many of the world-famous summer resorts of the Dominion such as Banff and Lake Louise. In 1921 every animal she sent to the Chicago Live Stock Show won a prize. Saskatchewan has a rural population of 72.79 per cent. and Alberta 61.99; the former a population of 2.66 to the square mile, the latter 1.96, which is about the average for all of Canada. Saskatchewan has 103,912 farms, and Alberta 67,603. Besides the cities of Calgary and Regina, the Prairie Provinces have such large and rapidly-growing cities as Saskatoon, Moose Jaw, Edmonton, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat, the latter famed for its cheap natural gas.

Colic—Flatulence

There are various forms of colic and they present different symptoms according to whether they occur in a child or in a grown person. Colic is a term applied to griping pains in the abdomen, and in grown persons it is frequently accompanied by vomiting and nausea. There is bilious colic and flatulent colic, which is best told by wind on the stomach, which is really gas and due to the poisons generated by a disordered stomach. Relief is readily obtained with Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin, which clears the stomach and intestines of the gases and fermenting foods.

Sick Headache

There are various forms of headache and vertigo, or, as it is commonly called, dizziness. The nervous, sick headache is nine times out of ten due to dyspepsia or constipation. Remove the cause by the use of Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin and the headache will disappear.

Chills—Colds —Fever

To ward off a severe attack of sickness from a bad cold, take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin the moment you feel the chill, cold or fever. Opening the bowels for a few days will relieve the congestion.

Piles

One of the principal causes of piles is constipation and straining at stool. The sensible thing to do is to use Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin in time and so prevent the more serious trouble.

When a laxative is needed use Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

WHEN the "gold rush" to California started in 1849 prospectors swept in waves along the Pacific Coast, and England, to protect herself, laid official claim to Vancouver Island. In 1858 she formed British Columbia. In 1866 Vancouver Island and British Columbia united, and in 1871 became a province of the Dominion. From 1895 onward the coast cities were again greatly helped by the second "gold rush," this time to Alaska, and today British Columbia is the market place for the Yukon and portions of the North-West Territories.

The population of British Columbia is now 523,353, of which Vancouver, the largest city, has 124,734, and Victoria, the capital, 55,000. The province is as large as the three Pacific Coast States of the United States. Victoria has a 72-inch reflecting telescope that is the second largest in the world. Vancouver has the lowest death rate in Canada, and the highest per cent. of male population. The fisheries of the province, valued at $25,000,000, are nearly one-half of Canada's total.

The definite turning point in British Columbia's life came with the completion of the railroad from the Atlantic to the Pacific, which occurred on July 4th, 1886. A journey that now takes five days once took five months, and in comparatively recent times five weeks. Simultaneously with the railroad came steamer service to Asiatic ports, linking all of Canada with the Orient. Prince Rupert is 436 miles nearer Asia than any other Pacific port. It is, too, the greatest fishing port on the Pacific Coast and the gateway to a land of untold, unexplored riches.
